Presenters

Hon Jenny Salesa

Hon Jenny Salesa is New Zealand's first Tongan born Member of Parliament and Cabinet Minister. She is Minister for Building and Construction, and Ethnic Communities, and Associate Minister for Education, Health, Housing and Urban Development. Under Health she has been allocated responsibility for health of older people services. Jenny came to Parliament with over 20 years' public sector experience, having worked in public service in New Zealand in Health, Pacific Island Affairs, and the Tertiary Education Commission and in Michigan USA in public health (vaccination) and early childhood investment.

Jon Herries

Jon is Group Manager, Emerging Health Technology at the Ministry of Health and just returned from Ireland where he was working in Healthcare and Technology consulting for EY. Jon established the Integrated Care Collaborative for CCDHB and was involved in project management, technology development and analytics. John will introduce his team and his role and plans. He will also draw connections between what his team is working on and how HCSS providers could help.

Jim Nicolson

Jim is Manager, Healthy Ageing Policy, in the Ministry of Health's Strategy and Policy Business Unit, and heads the Ministry's policy work in relation to the health of older people. He is strongly committed to collaboration. In 2015-16, he and his team led the development of the Healthy Ageing Strategy. Since then Jim has been finalising an implementation plan for the Strategy (completed in May 2017). Currently, with district health board colleagues, Jim is leading a priority action to collaboratively develop models of care for home and community support services that address future needs of older New Zealanders in sustainable ways.

Mark Powell

Mark is Manager of the Contract Support team & the Programme Manager for IBT & Pay Equity at the Ministry of Health. He has worked extensively in operational roles in the commissioning of services including the implementation of Outcome Agreements & Results Based Accountability measures. He has also completed the implementation of the sleepover settlement, the implementation of Part A of the IBT settlement, and the introduction of Guaranteed Hours. Since January 2018 Mark has also been leading the Pay Equity programme.

Kellee Ireland

Kellee is Sales Director for Healthmetrics. She has extensive experience in the field of Information Technology, and also in the principles of 'person-centred' care via her role as Operations and Training Coordinator for The Eden Alternative. She was a finalist for the 2017 Telstra Victorian Business women's Awards and is also on the board of Victorian Women for Information Technology. Kellee will talk about emerging and technologies relevant to home and community health and disability support services

Sacha O'Dea

Sacha O'Dea is programme lead for System Transformation and has been involved in Enabling Good Lives since 2013. She had oversight of work on Enabling Good Lives and the two demonstrations in Christchurch and the Waikato as a General Manager in the Ministry of Social Development. In March 2017, she moved to the Ministry of Health to lead the three-month co-design process with the disability sector to begin a nationwide transformation of the disability support system.

Lynne Sijbrant

Lynne is the Principal of Sijbrant Legal. She has significant expertise and relationships in a wide range of legal matters across the wider health and disability sector. She previously worked at Russell McVeagh, and was in-house General Counsel for Healthcare of NZ and member of the executive leadership team. She has been a key member of negotiation teams for home and community and mental health in relation to in between travel and equal pay. Lynne will talk about guaranteed hours, equal pay and employment law changes.

Gill Genet

Gill is General Manager, Business Development at Careerforce ITO. She is passionate about developing a valued, competent and qualified workforces. She manages the Kaiāwhina Workforce Action Plan. She commissioned the HCHA workforce report to will inform the 2018 Qualifications Pathway Review and is developing an engagement plan giving more voice to the experiences of clients, trainees and apprentices who complete Careerforce's programmes – while not losing sight of the critical role employers have in workplace-based training. Gill will talk about workforce development and qualification updates.
